DIGITAL EARTH ANNOUNCES THE SUCCESSFUL SALE OF GEOLAB NOR AS

Trondheim, Norway – Digital Earth Inc. today announced the successful sale of Geolab Nor AS (Geolab) of Trondheim, Norway to Fugro NV of The Netherlands.

Fugro has acquired Geolab Nor AS, established in 1984 and with its head office in Trondheim, Norway. The company specialises in supplying petroleum, geochemical and consultancy services to the oil and gas industry on a worldwide basis. Geolab Nor AS is one of the few companies worldwide with a proven track record in offshore surface geochemistry sampling and analysis.

Current management will stay in place and the company will be renamed Fugro Geolab Nor AS. The company has fifteen staff, revenues of approximately EUR 2.8 million and will be part of the Geoscience Division under the management and guidance of Fugro Robertson Ltd.

Malvin Bjrøy, Managing Director of Geolab Nor said. "On behalf of the Geolab shareholders I would like to thank everyone at Digital Earth for their attention to detail and overall professionalism throughout the sale process. You were there at all times to share your experience and advice, and to negotiate on many key and sensitive issues. We would not hesitate to recommend Digital Earth to other potential clients"
